Extreme Weather events impact service in Adelaide

Telstra is working to manage the significant impact to Telstra services that has occurred as a result of a series of extreme weather events in the Adelaide metropolitan area of South Australia on or about Tuesday 30 June 2009.

Due to the effect of damage to the Telstra telecommunications network by the severe thunderstorms, there has been a significant increase in the number of Telstra services being reported as faulty. As a result, there has been some disruption to service and delays to normal installation and repair activities. Telstra apologises to any affected customers.

Based on current information, the resumption date of normal service operations is expected to be 13 July 2009. This date is indicative only; Telstra customers should anticipate that some further delays may occur. Telstra regrets any inconvenience caused to customers and thanks them for their patience while this work is being undertaken.
